

DEMANGE'S FINAL PLEA FOR DREYFUS

An Air of Solemnity in Court Room

PRISONER LOOKED FORLORN AND WRETCHED.

A Scene That Will Live Forever in the Memory of Those Present Was When Letters Were Read From the Accused While at Devil's Island—Labori Will make No Speech So a Verdict May Possibly Be Reached Tomorrow.

Rennes, Sept. 8.—[Special].—The court room today pervaded with an air of great solemnity when Demange began his final plea for Dreyfus.

The prisoner looked unusually forlorn and piteously wretched.

Demange's speech was the effort of his life. Gestures were frequent and he spoke with a voice vibrant with emotion and no other sound broke the silence of the court room.

A scene which will live forever in the memory of those present was when Demange read from letters written by Dreyfus when a prisoner at Devil's Island.

He told of the suffering which attended hope and despair.

There was hardly a dry eye in the court room. Dreyfus shed tears. Six judges sat with fixed expression, but the seventh, Major Proflette, was visibly affected.

At noon court adjourned, Demange to finish tomorrow.

Labori will make no speech, so a verdict will possibly be reached tomorrow.

German Emperor's Statement

Berlin, Sept. 8.—[Special].—The emperor today issued an official statement reiterating that Germany was never connected with Dreyfus in any manner.

With the statement is the announcement that it is issued "For the preservation of the dignity of Germany and as a fulfillment of a duty to humanity."

To Announce Verdict Tomorrow

Rennes, Sept. 9.—[Special].—It is officially announced this afternoon that the court's verdict in the Dreyfus case will be announced tomorrow, even if two sessions of the court is necessary.

SUMMING UP OF THE SITUATION.

Conviction of Dreyfus Seems Certain—Defense Has Been Weak.

Rennes, Sept. 8.—Those who have followed the debates in the Dreyfus trial closely are not surprised at the sensational conclusion of the evidence Thursday, followed as it was by Major Carriere's demand for the application of the law against Dreyfus.

The refusal of the court-martial to permit Labori to telegraph a list of questions to the German and Italian military attaches was a crushing blow to the friends of Dreyfus, who had been led to believe that Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi were willing to answer, and that their answers would furnish the final convincing proof of the prisoner's innocence.

Later in the day, however, it was known that Labori's questions would have been in vain.

Chancellor Hohenlohe, in the name of the German emperor, telegraphed Count von Munster to inform the French government that he was the friend of France, and as such did not want to interfere in French internal affairs.

The French government communicated this dispatch to Casimir-Perier as a matter of courtesy.

The friends of Dreyfus realize that Labori made a great mistake. The army will be inclined to believe that Emperor William did not interfere because he knew Dreyfus was guilty.

When Esterhazy learned that Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi had been asked to give evidence, he demanded by a telegram to Col. Jouaust to be cited and confronted with them.

A calm study of the evidence, while it certainly was not such as would have been accepted in an American court, is quite sufficient to weigh upon a military tribunal, and it is a military tribunal that has been called to judge Dreyfus. All along the defense has been lamentably weak. The evidence against Dreyfus has not been as logically refuted as it might have been.

Witnesses have taken occasion to attack the army and its chiefs, turning the case into a political trial instead of a defense of Dreyfus, who could have been acquitted, and yet may be, although with the representative of the government against him the chances look dubious.

The defense should have faced the guns of the accusation, and not dodged them by calling all on the accusing side thieves, robbers, assassins, forgers and fools. It is little matter if Gen. Mercier is called an assassin if his evidence is not clearly refuted, which has not been done.

During the whole affair the extraordinary conduct of the defense, if clearly and calmly studied, will be found at fault.

One feels a horror in contemplating what is in store for Dreyfus. If the judges agree with Carriere, and pronounce condemnation, the terrible scene of degradation must be repeated. Legally, Dreyfus can depend on revision, but such revision will be a new trial before a court-martial of the generals, from which nothing can be hoped. There can be no appeal for a second examination to the Court of Cassation, which, according to law, can only break judgment once on the same case. The chamber of deputies will have to pass a special law to bring the matter again before the Court of Cassation.

It is hoped that the sentence, if pronounced, will be more lenient than the first one, and that some other fortified spot will be found, where the sufferings of the prisoner will be less terrible and where his wife will be allowed to accompany him into exile.

In connection it should be stated that Merle Adkins, pitcher of the local team, was at the time about as far away from the spot as the distance from the pitcher's box to the plate. Can there possibly be any connection between Mr. Higson and Adkins?

BEGIN PURCHASE OF NEW TOBACCO CROP

BIDS FAIR TO ESTABLISH THE MARKET PRICE.

Scramble Assumed the Aspects of a "Horse Race" Before Excitement Wore Away—Harvest of the New Growth Fast Nearing Completion—Rain Beneficial.

The buying of the new crop which started as noted a week ago in Vernon county, has been carried into other tobacco sections during the week where the movement has developed into proportions that bids fair to establish the market price for the crop. The scramble up in Vernon county assumed the aspects of a "horse race" before the excitement wore away, and sober second thoughts prevailed. There has been some lively hustling done in a few other localities where the reputation for producing fine leaf was established. Buyers have overrun these like a swarm of locusts, and some attractive prices were paid for Wisconsin leaf. Active buyers so far in the lower sections were Sutter Bros. with eight or ten buyers and the Hoffman-Culton firm with quite as many more. We believe a conservative estimate of the amount of tobacco contracted for to date would be: For the Vernon county section 400 to 500 acres; Morrisville and Rio section 400 acres; Orford and Albany section 150 acres; all other localities 100 acres. The fact that some of the buyers are paying $10 an acre advance on contracts shows an earnestness that is commendable.

The harvest of the new crop is fast reaching completion, possibly three-fourths will be safely housed by the close of this week. Local rains of the week has helped both the standing tobacco and the curing in the sheds.

Owing to sickness, President Van Wart was prevented from attending the meeting, and D. H. Pollock was chosen chairman. Feathered Ventriloquist—Many birds form their sounds without opening their bills. The pigeon is a well-known instance of this. Its cooing can be distinctly heard, although it does not open its bill. The call is formed internally in the throat and chest, and is only rendered audible by resonance. Similar ways may be observed in many birds and other animals. The clear loud call of the cuckoo, according to one naturalist, is the resonance of a note formed in the bird. The whirring of the snipe, which betrays the approach of the bird to the water, is an act of ventriloquism. Even the nightingale has certain notes which are produced internally, and which are audible while the bird is closed.

ALMA BLANCHARD'S DEATH NOT SUICIDE

RIB LAKE WOMAN SLAIN WHILE SHE WAS ASLEEP.

Husband Arrested on Suspicion of Murder—Jury at Viroqua Says Patrick Mulcrone's Demise Was a Desperate Crime—Farmer Swallows Frog—State News.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 8.—The sudden transformation of a suicide case at Rib Lake to an alleged cold blooded murder, is attracting much attention here. The victim, Mrs. Alma Blanchard, was a bride of but a few months, and as she was soon to have become a mother, a second life was thus ended by the act of the murderer. The husband is the one whose story furnished the theory of suicide. This was the verdict of the coroner's jury, and the fact that Blanchard's story was a plausible one, but the love the mother and father of Mrs. Blanchard bore for their daughter, would not permit them to entertain a theory of suicide, and they demanded an investigation. The finding shortly after of Blanchard's trousers covered with blood, was sufficient, with the suspicious circumstances, to make the authorities act, and they promptly arrested the husband.

The deed was committed last Monday morning. Blanchard says that he arose as usual at five o'clock in the morning. His wife complained of a slight feeling of illness and he advised her to remain in bed. He says he went to the mill barn and cared for his horses. He was engaged in driving and at the usual hour started in for his day's labor.

At about 7:30 o'clock he had occasion to pass his home and noticing that the curtains were still down thought he would run in and see how his wife was feeling.

Upon entering the bedroom a fearful sight met his gaze. According to his story his wife lay sweltering in her life's blood with two bullet holes in her head and one through her arm.

This sight Blanchard declared almost overpowered him. This is his story, but the state has contradictory evidence.

Jury Says it is Murder—Viroqua, Wis., Sept. 8.—The coroner's jury, impaneled in the case of Patrick Mulcrone, by Justice McMichael on Monday last, returned its verdict after the conclusion of the adjourned session of the inquest here yesterday. Witnesses were examined and the remains were identified by neighbors as those of Mulcrone. The missing foot was not accounted for by evidence, but the conclusion is that in torturing the man to make him reveal the place of his hidden money, and choking him upon the bed, his leg was twisted and broken over the bed rail. It is also supposed that his watch dog carried the leg away. The jury found that Mulcrone met his death by violence at the hands of some person or persons unknown and the sheriff has offered a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

She is well dressed and wore two gold rings and a gold brooch, but not a single identification could be established. Corner Strippie took charge of the body, and with the police is endeavoring to ascertain who she is and solve the mystery of the suicide.

He said he hadn't noticed anything like a frog going down.

EXCITEMENT RUNS HIGH IN LONDON

Feeling of Populace One of Confidence

MINISTERS MEET TO CONSIDER TRANSVAAL CRISIS.

Downing Street the Scene of Great Excitement—Session of Cabinet Lasted From 12 Until 2 O'clock—No Statement As to a Decision But Rumors Are Again Plentiful—Most Likely Story is That it Was Decided to Convene Parliament and Ask for Prompt War Credit.

London, Sept. 8.—[Special].—Downing street was the scene of great excitement today. Crowds assembled outside the foreign office at an early hour awaiting the arrival of the ministers. As each minister arrived, the crowd closed in and cheered lustily. This showed the feeling of the populace to be one of confidence and will much strengthen the backbone of the government.

The session of the cabinet lasted from twelve until two o'clock. No statement as to a decision was made but rumors are again plentiful. Among the most likely of the stories is the one that it had been decided to convene parliament immediately and ask for prompt war credit.

As the ministers left the foreign office the large crowd which had waited patiently, cheered again and again. The crowd was larger than ever and Downing street was blocked from one end to the other.

There has not been so much interest taken in a cabinet meeting since the formation of a flying squadron, ostensibly against Germany, two years ago. The situation then, as in this instance, was brought about by trouble with Transvaal and Emperor William's telegram of sympathy to President Kruger after the Jamison raid.

England replied by mobilizing the most powerful fleet ever assembled in a few days' time.

Accepted Transvaal Propositions—Boston, Sept. 8.—[Special].—A private cable just received says that the British cabinet has accepted the propositions of Transvaal for another conference.

President Kruger's Position—Pretoria, Sept. 8.—In the course of the debate in the first raad Thursday, President Kruger said that he knew that the Lord would give a good judgment in the dispute between Great Britain and the Transvaal, and that "if Mr. Chamberlain stood before the countenance of God his own conscience must acknowledge there was no suzerainty."

All depended, the president declared, upon the reply received from Mr. Chamberlain. He (Kruger) had given much away already. He had given his jacket and trousers and the only thing left was independence.

It was said, continued President Kruger, that it was the desire of the British to wipe out the defeat at Majuba Hill, but it was the noblest thing Great Britain ever did. When, after that, she restored the independence of the Transvaal, that was due to Mr. Gladstone, who saw the petitions sent to the queen were false.

"That deed," said Mr. Kruger, "is indelibly engraved on the minds of the Transvaal as the noblest of Great Britain's deeds."

The president declaration that, if it came to fighting, God would be the arbitrator, was loudly cheered.

In conclusion, Mr. Kruger said he hoped the raad would wait until the reply to the last dispatch had been received. If the proposal for a conference was renewed, the Transvaal government would do its best to meet the other side. God, he said, held the hearts of the people in his hand, and if the people called on him he would respond. He ruled the lot of all. The president also said he earnestly hoped that Mr. Chamberlain's heart would be changed.

Large British Force Will Be Sent—London, Sept. 8.—The Daily Mail publishes the following from Johannesburg: "It is reliably reported from Pretoria that a special military train, with a body of armed men, was dispatched to the Natal border Tuesday night, with an equipment of several heavy field guns and a quantity of ammunition."

The list of troops for service in the Transvaal, in case of war, is published. Eight brigades are to go from England. All regiments will be brought up to their full establishment by summoning reservists.

When Sir Redvers Buller was first offered the command, the war office suggested a force of 10,000 men would be ample. Gen. Buller refused to start with less than 50,000. The list published shows an effective fighting force of 48,000, and including the Indian contingent the force will doubtless reach 50,000 before war begins.

These figures show the great change in the attitude of the government, which evidently intends to make a certainty this time.

A FIGHT MAY OCCUR—London, Kentucky, Is Full of Clay County Feudists—Trouble Is Brewing.

London, Ky., Sept. 8.—[Special].—London presents a warlike appearance this morning. The town is full of Clay county feudists and a bloody fight may occur between the Griffins and the Philpots at any hour.

WELCH GOT LIGHT SENTENCE—Edgerton Burglar Sent to Jail for Five Days—Other Court News

George Welch, who is charged with burglary, came into the municipal court today on a petition that he be allowed to plead guilty to the charge of malicious mischief, and District Attorney Jackson dismissed the other counts of the information against him. He pleaded guilty, and Judge Fifield sentenced him to five days in jail at hard labor. Welch has been the victim of a chain of circumstances which has made it impossible to try his case before, and the fact of his having been in jail since June, was taken into consideration, and was the reason for the light sentence that was imposed. Welch was charged with entering a house in Edgerton on burglarious intent, but says he was drunk at the time.

The case of the state against Otis K. Walkley was adjourned to Monday, September 11, on account of the turn up state of the court room at present.

SERGEANT HAMMER PROMOTED—Old Beloit Boy Is Promoted To Sergeant Major.

The very happy news comes to Beloit from the Philippines that Sergeant Gilbert Hammer has been promoted to be Sergeant Major of the Fourth United States Infantry.

This position is one of the best that lies within the reach of the enlisted man. It ranks next to that of the commissioned officer. Sergeant Hammer joined the regiment as a private and it was not long before he was appointed a corporal, which was his rank when he left the States for Manila a year ago, and as merit is pretty sure to win in the army he became sergeant and now sergeant major. The sergeant major is the assistant of the adjutant.

Charles Manning who is going to Manila left Beloit yesterday and joins the Third regiment in Chicago and leaves for San Francisco tomorrow—Free Press.

A Sure Coffee Test—There is no drink more delicious than a cup of coffee when the beverage is made from the best seed. To test coffee put a spoonful gently on the top of a glass of water. If the coffee is pure it will not sink for some minutes and will scarcely color the water; but if chicory is mixed with it it will sink to the bottom immediately, rapidly absorbing the water and also giving it a dark-reddish tinge.

WATERTOWN TAKES THE GAME

Janesville Defeated At Fort Atkinson Yesterday.

The local Y. M. C. A. base ball team, went down to defeat yesterday at Fort Atkinson, the Watertown aggregation winning the honors of the battle by a score of 11 to 7. Excitement ran high and in fact the contest was one of force rather than skill and reminded one very forcibly of foot ball in days gone by.

Adkins was in the box for Janesville on the start but in the third inning it was thought best to save him for today's game. Fisher was substituted and pitched a creditable game, the Watertown boys not making a hit until the seventh inning. Apel pitched a fair game until the fifth inning, when he was troubled with the glass arm and the Janesville boys began to find him easy. He saw his finish in the seventh when he was touched up for four runs and Root was put in the box to finish the game and the score shows that the change was a timely one. Following is the score:

TWO PLEASANT SURPRISES

Friends Gather at the Homes of Miss Carrie Reeder and Lena Pease.

Last evening about twenty-five or thirty of the friends of Miss Carrie Reeder took possession of her home, 187 Pearl street. Miss Reeder returned, Wednesday evening, after an absence of three weeks spent in Chicago. The surprise was a most agreeable one, and the hostess proved equal to the occasion, and bid her guests a hearty welcome, and entertained them in a most hospitable manner. Card playing and social intercourse made up the evening's amusement, which was one of rare enjoyment to those present. It was some little time after midnight when the guests dispersed, which was preceded by assurance to the hostess that all had passed a most delightful evening.

Another Pleasant Surprise.

Another pleasant surprise was perpetrated on Miss Lena Pease at the home of her parents, Presiding Elder and Mrs. Frank A. Pease, 153 Linn street, last Wednesday evening. The evening was pleasantly passed in playing games of various kinds and the young people had a good time generally. Dainty refreshments were served.

Following were the guests present:

Misses—Pearl Hall, Fanny Clithoro, Alice Cousins, Lela Pease.
Messrs—Earl Brooks, Archie Randall, George Pettit, Linn Newell, Charles Brown.

build the house around the bathroom.

SO SOME PEOPLE say, The modern idea in building is to have the bath room and plumbing convenient and nice, if you are obliged to cut off on something else.

That Double System of Plumbing.... we are putting in many houses, is a convenience well worth looking into. It can be placed in any house. With it you have soft water for the bath and lavatory purposes and with the turning of a valve you can run city water through the pipes. A motor elevates the soft water automatically. ## TO SAVE PINE FORESTS.

Project to Establish a Great National Park in Northern Minnesota.

BY C. T. BAXTER.

A project is on foot to establish in northern Minnesota a great national forest park. It is intended to include a great area of land in which are to be found the system of lakes which form the head waters of the Mississippi and the few remaining tracts covered by the untouched forests of virgin pine.

An organization known as the Minnesota National Park and Forestry association has the movement in charge. This organization proposes to take 50 or more congressmen through this delightful wilderness some time during the next two months. The statesmen will be shown the glories of the region. They will be asked to contrast it with the desolate condition of the land where the ruthless hand of the lumberman has been felt and then they will be asked to vote to preserve at least a part of this great forest and set it aside as a national park.

The last of the great pine timber tracts of the northwest lies in the upper portion of Minnesota, a vast region of many thousand square miles, which was once too remote from transportation to make the marketing of its lumber easily practical. Out by the port of Duluth and south by the highway of the Mississippi river, and out also from the stations of the railroads which have been steadily invading that region there have long been coming the old streams of logs.

Minnesota is by no means a new region for the lumberman, but a part of the state, more especially that covered by certain Indian reservations, is still ancient and is looked on eagerly by the eyes of those men whose capital is invested in the lumber trade.

The eastern and northeastern portions of Minnesota have been well logged off.

SCENE IN THE VIRGIN PINE FOREST OF MINNESOTA.

ged off. The forest fires at Hinckley and elsewhere, which wiped out whole villages and destroyed scores of lives, show what possibilities of ruin there are latent in a slashed off, abandoned lumber country. Little by little the ax and the saw have been working toward the last of the great northwestern pine forests.

The gentlemen of the organization simply ask the members of congress to see that country and then to decide the question whether it should belong to the people of America or be given over to the ax and saw of a few lumbermen, who must soon ruin it, as they have ruined the pine tracts farther to the east.

As for the region itself, it lies at the summit of that great triangular watershed which is one of the most remarkable sections of the entire northwest. On this summit lie the sources of three great waterways—those of Hudson bay, of Lake Superior and of the Mississippi valley.

The section lies to the east of the Red river valley, that great wheat garden which is itself the bottom of an ancient sea. It extends on the north up toward the Lake of the Woods. On the east it is drained by many smaller streams, and from its southern portion runs the great artery of the Mississippi river.

If you look at a map of this country, you see it shot full of lakes, but no map shows all these lakes, and no picture could show a portion of their beauty. There are hundreds and hundreds of lakes and streams in that beautiful region which all intents and purposes are today unknown.

The like of this land does not lie out of doors in the entire west today. It is two days closer, $100 closer, to the center of population than the Yellowstone. It is three days closer, it is $200 closer, than the Yosemite. It is worth a dozen Niagaras for a tired man. It is the highest and most healthful region of the northwest.

It still holds its aboriginal population, still retains its original wild animals, and its waters are as yet undrained of the great fish which are native to the Mississippi or the Hudson tributaries. Over it stand the trees as God made them, not as man would leave them. Indeed, here is still left a little of ancient America, the grandest country of the globe.

Some opposition has already developed to the plan, but not of so serious a character as to indicate final defeat of the object of the association, of which President Cyrus M. Northrop of the University of Minnesota is the head.

Extra Session of Congress.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Representative Adolph Meyer of Louisville said yesterday that a close friend of the administration had told him that the president contemplated calling an extra session of congress for the latter part of October or the first of November. His belief was that although such an extra session would have to deal with the passing of laws for the government of Hawaii, Porto Rico and Cuba, the principal topic before it would be the Philippines, which is sure to provoke heated discussion. If no extra session is called he believes that the regular session would run into August.

Shaffer to Stay in Service.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Major-Gen. William R. Shaffer will be 64 years old on Oct. 1, and in accordance with the age retirement law he will be placed on the retired list of the regular army on that date. It has been decided, however, that there is nothing in the law under which he was appointed a major-general of volunteers to prevent him from retaining active command in the volunteer army after having passed the age limit of the regular service. He will therefore be continued in command of the department of California, with the rank of major-general of volunteers.

Plans of Otis Approved.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The government has approved a plan submitted by Major-Gen. Otis for dividing the Philippine islands into military districts. The plan will be put into operation soon after the beginning of the dry season. It is the understanding that Major-Gen. Lawton will have command of the military district of southern Luzon and Major-Gen. MacArthur the command of the district comprising the territory to the north of Manila.

McCoy Is Still Challenging.

New York, Sept. 8.—"Kid" McCoy still has hopes of obtaining another chance at the heavyweight championship. He has $1,000 posted to bind a match with "Lanky Bob," but the latter seems to have no desire to take the Indian on for a bout. Fitzsimmons, like Corbett, wants to get on a match with the winner of the Sharkey-Jeffries fight. He says he will not engage in another contest unless it is a championship affair.

England Maintains Claim.

London, Sept. 8.—Government officials repudiate the idea conveyed in dispatches from the United States that Great Britain is to forego her claim for a port on the Lynn canal in Alaska, even temporarily. Otherwise they share the hopes of the American government for an early settlement of the Alaskan boundary question.

Monument for Soldiers of Four Wars.

A monument recently placed in a cemetery in Louisville, Ky., bears inscriptions to the memory of James Austin, a soldier of the revolution; James Allen Austin, his son, a soldier of the war of 1812; James Grigsby Austin, his grandson, a soldier of the war with Mexico, and James Richard Gathright, his great-grandson, a Confederate soldier, who was killed at Murfreesboro, Tenn., Jan. 1, 1863. All were privates.

When thou doest feel death slowly creeping towards thyself, mayest thou not regret that thou didst fail to take Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith's Pharmacy, Kadak Agents.

THE DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

usually arrives on American shores with a preconceived notion of what our liquors are like, but after sampling once or twice he begins to speak of it as the finest whiskey that ever passed his lips. It is put up in characteristic square bottles and may be found all over North America. By being stored for years in heavily charred oaken barrels its mellowness and flavor is greatly enriched. If there is merit in fine old whiskeys, certainly Old Underoof has it.

All People Know

Whether they have had satisfaction from the Shoes that they have been wearing, and a greater number of the people of Janesville have purchased of us. You know that our Shoes always wear longer and keep their shape better than Shoes purchased at many of the so-called "Cheap-John" places. We will leave it with you to decide, but it seems the most sensible to purchase where you know the Shoes are right rather than take chances on old odd jobs of other days. We handle nothing but new factory goods and guarantee every pair.

That means that we take the chances, and not you. We carry the largest assortment in Southern Wisconsin and can properly fit your feet no matter what the shape and give you the style of Shoe that you want.

We were never better prepared to meet the wants of the people of Janesville than now. Our Fall styles are now here and we invite your inspection, whether you want to buy now or not. Always pleased to show you.

BISHOPS INDORSE MCKINLEY.

Enthusiastic speeches in support of President McKinley were made at the Northwestern Indiana conference of the Methodist church. Bishop Thorborn made a ringing expansionist speech, and said that the Methodists had already commenced their missionary work in the Philippines, and he believed that God is leading us in the Philippine campaign and that the world will be better with the islands under the American flag.

Bishop Hurst followed Bishop Thorborn with a glowing tribute to President McKinley. He stated that he called on the president a few days ago and asked if he could be of any assistance to him with his burden. The president's reply was: "Keep on praying for me." Bishop Hurst said that he did not believe that there was a man in the whole land who relied so implicitly upon God to direct him as President McKinley.

According to news dispatches, the green goods men operating in Cuba are conducting their business on such an extensive scale as to send genuine $1 bills with their circulars as samples of the counterfeit money they have for sale. The Cubans appear to know enough not to be caught by the circulars, but in many cases they have failed to recognize the character of the inclosed bills and have turned them over to the authorities, thus in each case relinquishing a good American dollar.

William J. Bryan evidently believes in doing as the Romans do while sojourning in their electoral precinct. The colonel found himself in a hotbed of expansionists when he visited California, so he promptly went back on his former theories, and said that he did not favor the withdrawal of our troops from the Philippines until a stable government is established. The first thing we know Bryan will be enlisting again.

President McKinley has been elected an honorary member of the Chicago Bricklayers' and Stone Masons' Union, the action being taken in order that the cornerstone of the new Chicago post-office will be laid by a "union man." The president will handle the trowel himself.

The Plankinton bank case is furnishing the Milwaukee papers with the scariest kind of "scare heads" these days. The idea seems to be catching, too, as even the lawyers are threatening to "put heads on each other."

Stevens Point papers do not propose to allow the Wisconsin Central company to remove its shops from that city to Fond du Lac if the law will prevent it, and have sent a committee to New York to consult the management of the road.

Dreyfus' fate, it seems, now rests with the Emperor of Germany, but tomorrow in all probability, some one else will have the much prosecuted Frenchman in the hollow of his hand.

Gov. Scofield has appointed former Lieutenant Governor Emil Baensch as a delegate to the anti-trust conference in place of Senator John C. Spooner, who will be unable to attend.

The Spanish newspapers also say nice things about Admiral Dewey. Of course. The Spaniards will know what they will get if they "sass" the fighting Vermont.

A Kenosha family was poisoned by eating canned corn beef the other day. Down with the war department!

FIVE HUNDRED AT ST. MARY'S PICNIC

A GRAND TIME AT YESTERDAY'S ANNUAL OUTING.

Speech Making Indulged in By Revs. Father Wm. A. Goebel, Salalantine and Mayor Richardson—Regular Program Declared Off—A Good Evening Entertainment.

The annual outing of St. Mary's congregation at Crystal Springs park yesterday was participated in by about five hundred of the members, and friends of that church. The day was a delightful one, the weather was perfect and not a detail was overlooked in making the affair a grand success and such it was in all the world implies. The first trip by the steamer Columbia was made at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued at frequent intervals. Smith's orchestra was present in the afternoon and delighted the merry makers with its popular music.

The regular program scheduled for the afternoon was declared off, and in its stead an impromptu program was given, which proved one of the most pleasant features of the day. Rev. Father William A. Goebel had charge, and presided in an able manner.

The program opened with a selection by the orchestra, after which Rev. Goebel made a few remarks of a humorous nature, speaking of picnics, and it really was a picnic in itself to hear him.

Mr. Gilbert, a student from Notre Dame, Ind., played a piano solo, and Miss Carrie Reynolds of this city, sang the beautiful ballad, entitled "Because," Smith's orchestra playing the accompaniment.

The beautiful chorus, "Cuba's Dream," by the children, was the next rendition. The little ones were carefully trained by Miss Bourgmeier, who also presided at the piano. Her efforts were most successful for the children did exceptionally well and were applauded generously.

Rev. Father Schneider of Fort Atkinson, sang a German song of a humorous nature entitled, "How Jacob Found Id Out." The accompaniment was played by Mr. Gilbert.

Rev. Father Goebel had a little fun at the expense of Mayor Richardson. He said something about the mayor of Janesville, and introduced Rev. Father Salalantine of Juneau, Wis., as the next speaker, who assumed the position of mayor of Janesville. He said that a city needed a spiritual mayor as well as a temporal mayor, and he was glad they had called him away from his duties, of governing the city to spend a day with them and enjoy their smiles and good humor. His remarks bubbled over with wit and humor, and delighted his hearers.

Rev. Goebel then introduced Mayor Richardson, who made a little light speech in which he "got even" with Revs. Goebel and Salalantine for their joke, by telling some of the experiences of the reverend gentleman on a trip to the northern woods.

A selection by the orchestra concluded the program.

During the afternoon dancing and bowling was enjoyed, also listening to phonograph selections.

In the evening a stereopticon exhibition of Cuba, the Maine, and the Cuban war was given, which was highly interesting.

The last boat load returned home about 10:30 o'clock last evening. Those who enjoyed the festivities pronounce it one of the greatest successes of the season.

NOTABLES AT EVANSVILLE

Gov. Scofield and Atty. Gen. Hicks Speak at the Fair.

At the county fair at Evansville yesterday there was a large attendance, and addresses were made by Gov. Scofield and Atty. Gen. E. R. Hicks.

Gov. Scofield said he had attended a number of county fairs this year, and finds the very atmosphere of the fairs loaded with prosperity.

Atty. Gen. Hicks said he would speak of Prosperity, Patriotism and Perpetuity. He spoke first of the prevailing, unbounded prosperity, the unprecedented demand everywhere for labor, the extensive railroad construction, the enormous increase in the demand for iron ore and lumber, the great grain crop and the largely increased wages which labor everywhere commanded.

The bicycle race events were as follows:

Half mile open—K. Savage, Rockford, first; H. L. Mack, Fox, Atkinson, second; W. F. Carle, Beloit, third. Time, 1:15.25.

One mile handicap—L. B. Tullock, first; H. R. Comstock, Rockford, second; K. Savage, Rockford, third.

One mile county championship—W. F. Carle, Beloit, first; W. J. Smart, Fulton, second; M. O'Neill, Leyden, third.

Five mile handicap—K. Savage, Rockford, first; Tullock, Rockford, second; Comstock, Rockford, third; Carle, Beloit, fourth.

Savage was the only scratch man who won a race.

FELL FROM A TOBACCO SHED

George Campbell Received Painful Injuries Yesterday.

George Campbell, who resides about three miles west of the city, met with an accident yesterday that is liable to lay him up for some time. By a fall from a tobacco shed he was cut and bruised quite severely. His back was also injured, but fortunately no bones were broken. Dr. James Mills was called to alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate man.

Will the man with the white hat ever get a "day off?"

CARE OF FOOD.—A great saving is made in the proper care and use of food and the uncooked food. The great consideration is cleanliness. The ice chest and cellar should be cleaned thoroughly once a week. Jars in which bread is kept must be scrubbed, washed and dried thoroughly at least twice a week. Cooked food that is placed in ice chest or cellar should be kept perfectly cool; if not, it absorbs an unpleasant flavor from the close atmosphere. Meat should not be placed directly on the ice, as the water draws out the juices. In the winter it is best to hang meat from a cold room, as it is a very bad habit to allow meat to remain in the brown paper wrapping and putting it on the ice. When purchasing meat, always see that the trimmings are cut off bits home for helping out the soups and sauces. Every scrap of meat and bone left from soups and broths should be saved for the soup pot. Trimmed from ham, tongue and corned beef should all be saved for the relishes they will make. Cold fish can be palatable when well warmed up in many ways. In fact, nothing is more common on the table is more enjoyed than the little dishes which an artistic cook can make from the odds and ends left from a former meal. An artistic cook is not meant to be a professional, but a woman who believes in cleanliness and hot dishes and their appearance as well as the mere taste of food.

PROMINENT COUPLE WEDDED LAST NIGHT

HELEN WILSON MOSELEY OF THIS CITY, THE BRIDE.

Joined in Hymeneal Bonds to Arthur T. Master of St. Louis Park, Minn.—Rev. R. C. Denison Performs Ceremony at Home of Mrs. D. D. Wilson.

One of the prettiest home weddings that ever took place in Janesville was the one of last evening uniting in the holy bonds, Miss Helen Wilson Moseley of this city, and Arthur T. Master of St. Louis Park, Minnesota, at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. D. D. Wilson, No. 359 Court street. Rev. Robert C. Denison of the Congregational church, spoke the solemn words which meant the joining of two lives; henceforth to travel the journey of life together. The affair was a quiet, unpretentious wedding, only the relatives and a few of the most intimate friends of the twain being present.

At precisely 7 o'clock, Miss Julia A. Wilson, an aunt of the bride, took her place at the piano, and while she played Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the happy couple, preceded by little Margaret Allen, as flower girl, took their positions, unattended, before the officiating clergyman, who united them as husband and wife. The bride was radiantly beautiful in a gown of white, organdie, with white satin trimmings, and wore in her hair a white aigrette. The only article of jewelry that she wore was a superb diamond pin, the gift of the groom. In her hand she carried a large bunch of American Beauty roses. The rooms of the house were decorated with a wealth of smilax, palms, roses and asters, which made a setting in keeping with the pretty event.

The ceremony over, the assembled guests repaired to the dining room where they were served with an elaborate wedding supper, the table being tastefully decorated with smilax and asters.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moseley, and is well known to the citizens of the Bower City to need further introduction. She is a young woman, the sweetness of whose disposition has endeared her to a large circle of friends and she has always been very popular in social circles. In her new life she will be followed by the happiest felicitations of numerous friends both in this city and Minneapolis, where she is well known.

Arthur L. Master is a comparative stranger to most Janesville people, but is a young man of sterling worth, who is spoken of in the highest terms by all who know him. He occupies a position of trust as manager of the Peavey grain elevator at St. Louis Park, Minnesota, and has been employed by the firm for the past fourteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Master left on the vestibule last evening for St. Louis Park, a suburb of Minneapolis, where they will go to housekeeping in a pretty and comfortable home which has already been prepared by the groom. Like the showers of rice with which they were followed to the train last night, the good wishes which follow them will be many. The gifts for the couple were numerous, and many of them were very costly, and evidenced the esteem in which they are held.

The guests from out of town who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. James Moseley and the Misses Helen, Flora and Laura Gillman, all of Madison.

A DELIGHTFUL EUCHRE PARTY

Mrs. George H. Fox Entertained Friends Last Evening.

Mrs. George H. Fox was hostess at a delightful six hand euchre party given to a company of ladies at her home, No. 155 South Wisconsin street last evening and the affair was a charming one. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing the popular game, and Mrs. E. P. Doty won the prize which was offered. After the game dainty refreshments were served at small tables, faultlessly waited upon by Misses Flossie McGregor and Lillian Mount and Messrs. Harry Atwood and William Fox. Those who were so fortunate as to receive invitations were:

Messdames—E. B. Helmsbroet, Sarah K. Lawrence, B. E. Dunwiddie, A. E. Burnham, B. E. Edgeland, Q. O. Suteland, Hamilton Richardson, A. F. Hall, C. S. Jackson, A. E. Harrington, George G. Suteland, Stanley E. Smith, Mary R. Merrill, Alice Ruger.

TENT MEETING POSTPONED

Rev. Hull of Harvard, at the Kimball Mission, Last Night.

Owing to the clouded sky, last night, the service could not be held at Camp Salvation. Captain Hill had arranged to have a mammoth open air service on the camp ground. Seats were arranged, a platform built, poles erected for the lights, and everything was in readiness for the crowd that would doubtless wait to hear the Rev. Hull of Harvard, but just at the conclusion of the open air service, the rain came, and the order of the evening services were changed. The use of the Kimball mission was secured, and a large crowd gathered in and around the little edifice. The service was an interesting one. Mr. Hull is a forcible speaker and easily moved his audience now to laughter, then to tears. He eulogized the members of the Tent Brigade and told of their work in his city. The service closed with five "penitents" at the altar. The meeting tonight will be held at the encampment, the auditorium tent having been repaired and once more is in its proper place.

NEGRO FRIGHTENS JOHNSTOWN PEOPLE

SHERIFF APPLEBY WAS SUMMONED POST HASTE.

Notified That a Desperate Colored Man Had Started in to Exterminate the Citizens—Officer Went Prepared to Bring Back Disturber Dead or Alive—Only a Scarce.

Janesville is not the only place where they have burglar scares. Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Appleby received a telephone message from Johnstown asking him to come out to that borough at once to capture a desperate negro that had started in to exterminate that residents of the country near the village. The sheriff left at once for the scene of the reported trouble prepared to bring back the wicked disturber dead or alive.

Upon his arrival at the town he found everything quiet, but was told that the man he wanted had been discovered by a farmer who was searching for some strayed horses, in a patch of woods a few miles out. Sheriff Appleby proceeded to the place indicated and after a while came across the colored man, who was seated on the ground with his back toward him. He was busily engaged in counting several bills, and beside him on the ground lay two loaded revolvers. Appleby crept toward him with his hand on his revolver and when near enough made a jump and secured the two guns. The coon took the proceedings coolly and didn't even wince as he continued to count his money.

The sheriff asked him to give an account of himself and the fellow said that he had done no harm to anybody, but that earlier in the day a farmer near Fairfield had attempted to set his dog on him and he told the granger that if he did not call the brute off, he would shoot him and his dog too. He emphasized his threat by displaying one of his guns, whereupon the farmer bitched up and started off to summon an officer. After considerable questioning Sheriff Appleby was convinced that the man was harmless and had simply acted in self defense, and as nobody could be found to testify to the contrary, he allowed him to go. As to the money he had, the negro said he had been working steady for a long time and had saved it up.

Thus did another sensation fall flat.

THEATRE goers will be pleased that Manager Myers has completed arrangements with "The Missouri Girl" Co., which will appear at the Myers Grand next Monday night. This company is a recognized attraction, playing only the best houses, and carrying its own special scenery. The star, Miss Sadie Raymond, is rated highly in the theatrical profession, and is ably supported by the noted comedian, Fred Raymond, and a thoroughly competent company.

Woman's World.

This has been a record breaking summer for the women's tailor. The surprising activity in yachting, the continued popularity of golf and now the rise and rage of the automobile have kept them as busy as bees and havers straight through what has hitherto been their dull season.

The gay coats and frivolous hosiery of the golf links quite turned the heads of the most sensible, the automobile costume's requirements completed the business, and now as big a trunk is necessary for every modish woman's sporting toilets as the one that holds her ball gowns.

Justly are they named toilets, for all of them represent careful color schemes, elaboration in detail and an

These illustrations and modes are reproduced from the New York Sun's fresh fashions for yachting, golf, etc.

Chilled Watermelon.—The Proper Way With Muskmelons, Cantaloupes, Etc.—Frozen Peaches and Cream—Fruit With Sherbet.

Chilled Watermelon.—Cut the chilled melon in halves crosswise; cut out sections as indicated in the illustration; cut down the remaining sections so that they may be easily separated with a knife. Replace the piece or not, as desired. Serve with the rind attached.

Another method of serving watermelon is to chill by standing it on the ice for several hours before serving; then send to the table cut in halves crosswise and resting on grape leaves. With a tablespoon scoop out the red pulp in egg shaped pieces, and serve on chilled plates.

Chinese Method of Serving Watermelon.—Scoop out the pulp as before, remove the seeds, sprinkle with powdered sugar or grated ginger root, turn into the can of a freezer and pack in ice and salt. After standing ten minutes, turn the crank very gently for a few minutes; repeat several times. Serve half frozen. Avoid turning the crank so as to crush the pulp.

Watermelon à la Steamer Priscilla.—Cut a section four inches thick from the center of a watermelon. Remove the green rind, leaving the edible portion—a round of pink melon pulp; place upon a serving dish, with bits of ice upon the top. In serving, cut in the same manner as a pie.

Cantaloupe and large muskmelons are often served after the style shown in the second cut. Score a small circle near the top of the chilled melon, then cut out alternate sections nearly to the base. Remove the seeds and fill the center with ice. Serve on chilled plates, plain or with powdered sugar or with salt and paprika. Or divide the chilled melons in thick cuts, quarters or eighths, remove the seeds, reconstruct the melons on a folded napkin and surround with a circle of ice to hold the pieces in place and to keep them cool.

Nutmegs and the smaller melons are served thoroughly chilled, cut in halves. The centers, from which the seeds have been removed, are filled with bits of ice or not, as preferred.

Macedoine of Fruit with Sherbet.—Peel a banana and cut in thin slices, peel an orange and remove the sections, discarding all seeds and membranes; cut two or three thin slices of pineapple in dice, remove the seeds and skins from a cup of white grapes, pare and slice three or four peaches and add a cup of raspberries, sprinkle with powdered sugar, mix thoroughly and set aside, buried in ice, until thoroughly chilled. Boil one pint of water, 1½ cups of sugar, ten minutes; add half a teaspoonful of gelatin, softened in a tablespoonful of cold water, and strain into the can of the freezer. When cold, add one pint of fruit juice and freeze, as usual. Serve the chilled fruit in glasses, a spoonful of sherbet on the top of each glass. The juice of any fruit may be used, or, better still, the juice of several kinds of fruit. Half a cup each of pineapple, orange, raspberry and currant, with the juice of one lemon, will be found especially agreeable.

Peaches and Cream, Frozen.—Pare and stone two quarts of peaches, press through a vegetable press or sieve, add the juice of an orange and a lemon. Stir in one pint of sugar and turn into the can of the freezer. When packed and ready to freeze, turn in one pint of cream and freeze as ice cream.

Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every special blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was almost heartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S., and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely. I built up my health and increasing my appetite. Although this was ten years ago, I have never yet had a sign of the disease to return.

W. R. NARRAN, Staunton, Va.
It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury, besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played Yesterday in the Two Leading Leagues.

Chicago's victory yesterday and Pittsburgh's downfall at Louisville elevated the Orphans again to a practical tie with the Pirates. Hot games were played at Brooklyn and St. Louis, so hot that their wind-ups were marred by riots. The visiting teams won in each case, Boston getting the satisfaction, if not gaining much pennant advantage, of beating Brooklyn, and Cincinnati strengthening its grip on fifth place by trimming Tebeau's tribe. Baltimore approached nearer the leaders by shutting out New York, and Philadelphia receded a trifle by a loss to Washington. The games:

At Chicago—

Chicago	100101103-7
Cleveland	000000060-6

At Brooklyn—

Standing even in the percentage column, Minneapolis and Indianapolis meet today in what may prove the decisive game of the Western league championship fight. When the winner is determined today, but three more games remain to be played before the season is ushered out. ## Angels May Be Lost.

Manila, via Hongkong, Sept. 8.—Gen. Otis cannot spare enough men to hold securely the village of Angeles. There are five miles of railway between Calumpit and Angeles which are unguarded by the Americans. The rebels have been able to come down to the railroad from the foothills and destroy this railroad. Three of the five miles have been torn up by the Filipinos. The road was very poorly built in the first place, and for over three weeks the Americans have been at work repairing the damage done by the insurgents in the one night's raid.

MAJOR RASSIEUR WITHDRAWS.

Missouri Candidate Practically Assured of the Position Next Year—Irving Robbins of Indianapolis Senior Vice-Commander in Chief.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 8.—Col. Albert D. Shaw of Watertown, N. Y., was elected commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic Thursday. Shortly after the opening of the session of the national encampment Judge Leo Rassieur of St. Louis, Mo., withdrew his name as a candidate for the office and requested that the vote of the encampment be given to Col. Shaw. As he took his seat after withdrawing from the contest he was cheered to the echo, and cries of "Rassieur for 1901!" were heard in all parts of the Grand opera house. Acting on the suggestion of Judge Rassieur, the encampment elected Col. Shaw by acclamation.

Other officers elected were: Irving Robbins of Indianapolis, senior vice-commander in chief; M. Minton of Louisville, Ky., junior vice-commander; William H. Baker of Lynn, Mass., surgeon-general; Jacob L. Grimm of Maryland, chaplain in chief.

The report of the pensions committee was again presented. The report was accompanied by resolutions drafted by the committee, and the encampment at once adopted them unanimously. The following are the resolutions:

"Resolved, That this encampment respectfully represents to the president its earnest conviction that rule 225, now in practical effect in the adjudication of claims for pensions, under section 2 of the act of June 27, 1890, in the pension bureau, works grave injustice to worthy ex-soldiers and ex-sailors, and we express the hope that you will find it consistent with your duties as an executive officer to abrogate this rule and re-establish the principle as defined in rule 164. Under the operation of rule 164, formulated and put into effect soon after the passage of this act, unquestionably responsive to public sentiment and based upon sound legal positions, in a word, the simple expression of the letter and spirit of the law, 400,000 names were added to the pension roll of the republic, and to which no objection was heard for years after its promulgation.

"Resolved, That this encampment respectfully represents that the practice in the pension bureau in barring widow claimants who have an income of $96 a year is not warranted by the terms of the law, and we warmly indorse the recommendation of the commissioners of pensions to successive secretaries of the interior that the limitation be increased to $250 a year.

"Resolved, That the commander in chief appoint a committee of five comrades to present to the president a certified copy of the action of this national encampment, with an expression of our earnest desire for justice only to our disabled comrades and the widows and orphans of our dead under the letter and spirit of the law.

"Resolved, That this committee is hereby authorized and directed, in the event that it is determined that relief may not be accorded by the administrative officers of the government, to present to congress a request for the amendment of the law in such form as to make certain the true intent of the statute as we believe it can be construed as herein represented."

The report was signed by R. B. Brown, J. W. Burst, John Palmer and Charles Clark Adams. The committee as suggested in the report was appointed, consisting of the four signers of the report, together with Gen. Daniel E. Sickles of New York. Later in the day the newly elected officers were installed and the encampment adjourned.

Rear Admiral Sampson greeted many of his comrades who fought with him in the civil war at the convention of naval veterans of the United States here to-day. The admiral received a great ovation when he entered the hall. Geo. L. Seavey, Chicago, was elected commodore commanding. The convention adjourned to meet with the Grand Army of the Republic at Chicago in 1900.

The national convention of the Loyal Home Workers elected Amos L. Seaman, St. Louis, president.

The Union ex-Prisoners of War elected James Atwell, Pittsburg, national commander.

GEN. MILES TO BE IN CHARGE.

Next Campaign in the Philippines Will Be One of Aggression.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The Record publishes the following:

Washington, Sept. 8.—Nelson A. Miles, general commanding the army, will go to the Philippines to direct the military operations during the approaching campaign. This statement, while not authorized by any announcement from the president or the secretary of war, is made upon the authority of one of the highest officers of the department.

There is no doubt that Gen. Miles desires the assignment, and unless the unexpected happens between now and the middle of October he will start for Manila.

Secretary Root, as is well known, strongly favors an aggressive campaign, and under his direction it will be commenced at the earliest possible date. Should conditions permit, the movement may be started next month, but it cannot be under full swing before November, when the dry season commences.

All the volunteers called by the president will see service in the Philippines. Secretary Root says they will all be sent across the Pacific, whether Aguinaldo surrenders within a month or a year. It is the purpose of the war department to relieve the regulars in the Philippines as soon as possible, and although peace may be restored in the islands at any moment, all the volunteers will be there by Jan. 1, 1900.

Of the 35,000 volunteers authorized by the last army reorganization act all but about 4,000 have been called into service. It was announced some time ago that the president had decided to organize out of this reserve one negro regiment, to be known as the Forty-eighth. He has accepted Secretary Root's recommendation to go further and authorize two negro regiments, the first to be recruited in the vicinity of Richmond, and the second farther south, near Mobile or New Orleans. These regiments will have white field officers and negro company officers, and they will be announced in a few days.

YELLOW FEVER INCREASING.

Many Americans and Spaniards Reported Stricken in Havana.

Havana, Sept. 8.—Yellow fever in Havana is on the increase, and has been during the last month. Eighteen Spaniards and twenty-six Americans are said to have been reported as seized with the disease Thursday. Park Inspector Harper is among those stricken.

Major Davis has ordered all houses throughout the city properly disinfected and rigid sanitary inspection is made daily.

Notwithstanding the new cases of fever, Havana's sanitary condition has greatly improved since the American occupation, as is shown by comparison with the official Spanish records.

The true sentiments of politicians are not to be judged by their professions of faith or their humanitarian speeches, but by their character and habitual conduct.—Louis Proal.

Esterhazy May Lecture Here.

London, Sept. 8.—Count Esterhazy, in an interview published here, repeats his statement that he did everything to which he has confessed in part by order of Col. Sandherr and his superior officers. He says he will reveal all after the trial at Rennes. Possibly he will go to the United States to lecture.

TAKES A HIGH PLACE

Stands Well in the Estimation of the People.

Attention is Naturally Excited When Anything is Praised by People Whom We Know.

A thing that stands high in the estimation of the public, and which is especially recommended by Janesville people; naturally excites our attention more than if our own people did not praise the article. Such a thing is going on right here in this city every day. People are praising Morrow's Kid-neo-ids, because they cure. There is no deception, no humbug, they do positively cure, and we furnish the evidence.

Mrs. James Close, 8 North street, says: "I have been troubled with kidney and liver complaint and constipation for a long time. I had severe pains across the small of my back in the region of my kidneys. I was so nervous I could not sleep. My liver was torpid and I suffered from indigestion and had such distressing pains in my stomach. I used different kinds of kidney remedies but did not experience much relief, until I commenced to take Morrow's Kid-neo-ids and Liver-cure. These grand remedies relieved me of all my former troubles."

Morrow's Kid-neo-ids are not pills, but yellow tablets, and sell at fifty cents a box at all drug stores and at The People's Drug Store.

Mailed on receipt of price. Manufactured by John Morrow & Co., chemists, Springfield, Ohio.
